RAASA Fees (now CAA):

The Recreation Aviation Administration of South Africa (RAASA) administers recreational aviation in South Africa, this includes amongst other functions, the issuing of licenses (gliders included) and glider ATFs (Authorities to Fly). All RAASA fees and costs must be paid directly by each member to RAASA as EPGC cannot act as an agent (middle man) on behalf of their members with regard to any RAASA functions. More information is available on the RAASA website - <http://www.raasa.co.za/> .

Notes:

* The no-duty levy applies only to Standard Members that do not wish to perform monthly duties at the airfield and thus pay an additional levy to help cover the time/cost of the other duty members.

 Motor-glider Only Members may only train on the club's motor-glider and not on the club's normal gliders as they are not required to perform monthly duties at the airfield. Additionally these members pay Motor Falke rates plus 25% and do not need to pay the monthly GTH levy.

 Student membership applies to anyone who is a full time student, is younger than 25 years of age and who does not have full time employment. Furthermore, students qualify for a 20% discount on flying rates for club aircraft and winch launches. Students may not opt for the no-duty option . Additionally, students qualify for a 50% discount on SSSA fees (excluding the Aeroclub portion).
